OVER 300 VOLUNTEERS STAMPED OUT HUNGER AT THE NALC FOOD DRIVE

The 26th Annual National Association of Letter Carriers' Food Drive will benefit food banks in Hawaii including Hawaii Foodbank on Oahu and Kauai, Maui Food Bank, The Food Basket on Hawaii.

The statewide coordinated effort was led by members of the NALC Committee of Hawaii: Daniel Hirai, Cynthia Ishizaki, Terry Kaolulo, Catherine Lederer, Clay Tamaki, Daniel Yang and Adele Yoshikawa - who worked with various unions and sponsors to ensure the success of this year's Stamp Out Hunger food drive.

Various companies with large trucks transported food donations to the Hawaii Foodbank warehouse on May 12 - 14, where members of union groups and agencies worked diligently for over 6 hours to inspect, sort and box donated food.

HAWAII FOODBANK FIGHT HUNGER HUI

Written by Lisa Nakano

Joel and Suzy are members of Fight Hunger Hui who have supported Hawaii Foodbank for more than two decades.

"We give to Hawaii Foodbank because this is where we can help people. We understand having to make the difficult decision between paying rent and putting food on the table…we've had to make those tough choices ourselves." said Suzy, a Fight Hunger Hui donor since 1998.

Suzy explained that early on in their marriage, Joel decided to leave his job in electronics technology because he felt it wasn't going anywhere. He couldn't find another job in his field, so he accepted work as a dishwasher in Waikiki. "We struggled," Suzy said. "Things got really thin." When Joel decided to move to the mainland to find more satisfying work, Suzy refused to leave Hawaii and they separated. She took on a part-time job paying only $15 a week to help make ends meet.

Joel found a job in Silicon Valley, but missed Hawaii and his wife. He eventually returned and landed a job at Pearl Harbor Shipyard, where he's worked until retirement. "We're fortunate to be in a financial position to give back," Suzy said. "Hawaii Foodbank was there for us when we needed help, and we're happy to support the foodbank and the great work they do to ensure that no one in Hawaii goes hungry."

Hawaii Family Dental's commitment to excellence goes beyond oral health. Mitchell Nakagawa, director of marketing & patient care, revealed a stark fact during his visit to the Hawaii Foodbank warehouse.

"Hawaii ranks highest in the nation for the amount of children under 10 who suffer from tooth decay. Our mission is to improve the lives of people in the community. We recognize the responsibility to ensure the well-being of children who don't have enough nutritious food to eat." — Mitchell Nakagawa

A donation of $5,000 from Hawaii Family Dental was presented to Desiree Faumui, food drive manager. This gift will provide 12,500 meals to children at risk of hunger.

UNITY IN COMMUNITY

One overcast Saturday morning in April, the bustling of music and over 100 volunteers from various churches could be heard as they united to host an Ohana Produce Plus Program food distribution at Life More Abundantly Island Church (LMAIC) in Wahiawa. Members of LMAIC and Community People Ministries (CPM) distributed "family boxes" to people in need. Food Partner Agencies like CPM play a vital role in the final drop-off points within various sites in the community.

Hawaii Foodbank Ohana Produce Plus Distribution at Wahiawa with LMAIC and CPM volunteers

CPM hosts 12 food distributions per month in various neighborhoods on Oahu by collaborating with 10 churches, including LMAIC in Wahiawa.

LMAIC, a full-gospel, spirit-filled church hosted their very first Ohana drop-off on April 7th. Food couriers equipped with wagons also personally delivered food to recipients' homes, especially for people with limited access to transportation.

The Hawaii Foodbank Ohana Produce Plus Program provides people in marginalized areas with baked goods, dairy products, eggs, cereal, snack foods and beverages.

John Hershenberg, Myrna Hershenberg, First Lady Gigi Williams and Dr. James E. Williams

"The reason why we partner with local churches from various denominations is to bridge people together. We work to administer spiritual needs and build meaningful relationships to create unity in the community." — John Hershenberg, president of Community People Ministries

"It's a big help. This program lets me save pocket money and take better care of my family. Without food assistance, it is so hard to budget living expenses month-to-month, day-to-day. When we receive donated food, I feel the transference of kindness in my heart." — Raymond Esbensen, Ohana Produce Plus Program Recipient

HARRY C. AND NEE CHANG C. WONG FOUNDATION | FOOD DROP OFF

For her 9th birthday, Ruby Perucci told her mom instead of presents, she wanted her family and friends to donate food to Hawaii Foodbank. On May 23rd, they dropped off her gifts of more than 210 pounds of food! Thank you Ruby and happy belated birthday.

A Message from Our President & CEO

WRITTEN BY RON MIZUTANI

It has been said that life begins at the end of your comfort zone. After 33 years at KHON2, it is safe to say that the newsroom on Piikoi Street was indeed my comfort zone. But somehow, I knew there was something else I needed to do. Who knew I would find what I was searching for at the end of a bumpy road on Kilihau Street?

I was introduced to the Hawaii Foodbank in 1992. Hurricane Iniki struck Kauai on September 11th, destroying our family's home in Nawiliwili. We were left with little. There was no electricity, no running water and no food. But that changed a few days later, when the Hawaii Foodbank provided more than one million pounds of food to help residents of Kauai recover from the disaster. It is something that I have never forgotten.

My mom was a single parent who raised two children while working three jobs. We struggled at times but it was no big deal eating Vienna sausage out of a can. I know what it is like to be without and that motivates me. It is my turn to give back.

The Hawaii Foodbank is on solid ground today because of people like John White, Linda Chu Takayama and Dick Grimm—people who believed in serving with compassion and being advocates for Hawaii's hungry. I promise to carry their torch with that same commitment and passion. It is a legacy that I am grateful for and humbled to be a part of.
